

Feature correlation HIDES the forced-choice bias (masked on the matched distribution), it does not remove it (persists over test distributions and in $\hat{\omega}$)

Worst case over ALL test dists.
(near-saturated for any imperfect rule; bias adds an excess)

Matched regret is masked ($\rightarrow 0$);
average over test dists. persists ($\sim 2\times$ benign)

Parameter harm: invariant to correlation

